

SOLO

Solo provides your own easy to use VMR (Video Meeting Room), giving you the ability to invite anyone to join you in video conference. With a single email, you can bring multiple people, or locations, together in your room.

Using the power of the Vidyo platform, Solo from VaaS-t uses a simple web-based interface to provide a HD quality conferencing experience. From the simple to use interface, to the powerful advanced sharing options and the industry leading multiparty meeting technology, Solo is the perfect conferencing solution.

With no specialized hardware, you can meet from your own PC, mobile or tablet with just a click. If you need to invite anyone with a traditional conferencing system, they can join too. We even support regular telephone calls in multiple countries.

With monthly or annual subscriptions you can keep control of your budget and get the level of service that you need.
